from the EDITOR'S CHAIR

1965: A BEGINNING

As we approach 1965, we in the American labor movement see a lot of auspicious beginnings. But most of them are only beginnings.

The government we helped elect has started its War on Poverty. But so far it is only a demonstration project.

In our efforts to steer our nation onto the road toward peace, we rejoiced with the signing of a nuclear test ban treaty nearly 1½ years ago. But nothing much has been done since.

And the war in Vietnam, a cancer that can spread anytime, plods on.

Despite various training and job-creating programs, our nationwide unemployment rate is still 5.2 per cent. And the experts say it won't go down significantly for at least another year.

STILL A DREAM

A beginning has been made in the fight for equal rights. But justice in Mississippi is still evasive. And in California, the majority of voters would rather have the right to discriminate than be right.

Most unions, meanwhile, continue their token support of equal job rights, regardless of race. But when confronted with the fact that most or all of their members are lily white, they blame it on the employers.

FAT & CONTENTED?

The labor movement, too, in 1965, has made a beginning on a lot of things, but not much more.

Union membership has stopped declining. Except in some parts of Southern California and Southern America, our political efforts are improving.

We elected a president and a Congress to enact our programs. Now we'll see what they do.

But labor continues to waste a lot of energy on fights over jurisdiction between unions, instead of spending its valuable time and money on extending its very real and important benefits to the millions of unorganized workers.

The farm workers, apparently sold down the river once again by our elected Democratic public officials under pressure from the corporation farmers, have the lowest wages and worst conditions of all.

But there are untold millions exploited by both private employers and local, state and federal agencies.

These are by no means confined to the South. And, though they abound in service occupations, retail trade and office jobs, the unorganized undermine the gains of the organized in almost every field and area.

1965, we await you: soberly, in the figurative if not the literal sense, and with anticipation.

Key section of U.C. report on farm workers censored

A report on farm workers from the University of California at Berkeley was censored, Secretary-Treasurer Thomas L. Pitts of the California Labor Federation charged last week.

The deleted 17-page section of a U.C. Giannini Foundation study corroborated findings of a recent UCLA report, according to the State AFLCIO leader.

The UCLA study showed that unemployed American workers would take jobs on California farms if wages and working conditions were improved.

Pitts blamed an "apparent grower veto" for deletion of the key section of the U.C. Giannini Foundation report.

The report was ordered by the State Department of Employment.

ACADEMIC FREEDOM?

Pitts said the censorship "constitutes a gross violation of academic freedom with respect to research personnel."

He added: "In this case, the selective insurance of parts of the Berkeley study enabled agribusiness to claim at the U.S. Labor Department hearings in San Francisco last week that the Berkeley study refuted UCLA's study when, in point of fact, the very opposite was the case."

Pitts pointed out that both studies were paid for by the state's taxpayers.

He wrote Governor Brown urging that the censored section be made public at once.

Amundson, Wade named to poverty war group

Norman E. Amundson, assistant secretary of the Central Labor Council, and Arthur M. Wade, president of Communications Workers 9415 and CLC Executive Committee member, have been appointed to a new 25-member Economic Development Council of the City of Oakland.

Mayor John C. Houlihan will head the council, which will advise city officials on local phases of President Johnson's War on Poverty. Joseph Smith, labor attorney and former Oakland mayor, will be vice-chairman, Amundson said.

Items on agenda told by Jimmy

Congressman James Roosevelt told unionists here Friday that the House Labor Subcommittee, of which he is chairman, will consider the following next year:

- A $2 minimum wage and expansion of minimum wage coverage.

- Double time for overtime in some industries.

- A basic 35-hour workweek.

He also forecast repeal of Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley Law "if labor will get together and insist on it." He added this would save unions large sums now spent in fighting state right-to-work legislation.

Cover up that old election bumper strip on your car

If you still have an election bumper strip on your car, don't bother to take it off.

Cover it up with one put out by the AFLCIO Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers to publicize its consumer boycott against Standard Oil Co. of California.

These bumper strips read: "Please Don't Buy Standard Gasoline and Oil—Unfair to Labor."

They're available in the Central Labor Council Office, 2315 Valdez St., Oakland, and at OCAW Local 1-561, 1515 Market Ave., San Pablo, as well as other union offices.

31,000 CREDIT CARDS

Alvin Johnson, delegate from OCAW 1-589, told the Central Labor Council 31,000 credit cards had been returned to Standard of California, according to unofficial reports.

If you return yours and it is sent back to you, Johnson urged delegates, tear it up and mail it to Standard again with a letter telling why.

The boycott began after Standard Oil tried to force a settlement below the rest of the industry pattern upon its employees.

It isn't that Standard can't afford the same 4½ per cent wage-and-benefit package that the union won from the rest of the industry, according to an OCAW statement.

Standard of California shared in the overall productivity increase of 8.8 per cent in the oil industry last year, when its new profits went up to $322,100,000 the OCAW said.

Yet, although all other major oil firms have agreed to the 4½ per cent package, Standard has "hung tough" at 3½ per cent, according to the union.

Union purchase of Israel bonds aim of dinner

Congressman James Roosevelt (D.-Los Angeles) stopped in Oakland last Friday to urge all Alameda County unions to participate in a forthcoming labor tribute to Under Secretary of Labor John F. Henning.

Henning, former California Labor Federation research director and state director of industrial relations, will be honored at a banquet sponsored by the Central Labor Council and Building Trades Council Feb. 8 at Goodman's, Jack London Square, Oakland.

The dinner will be on behalf of the State of Israel Bonds program.

Under Secretary Henning will receive the "Labor's Citizen of the Year" award.

IMPORTANT TO LABOR

Congressman Roosevelt spoke at a reception for unionists in the Labor Temple.

In urging support of the Feb. 8 dinner, he called Israel "the outstanding example of labor's participation in the government and policies of a nation" in the free world.

He said Israel has a special relationship with the free world's trade unions because of the pioneering efforts of its labor movement, Histadrut.

Partly because labor and the government are so closely related, Israel has no unemployment, Roosevelt said.

More than $70 million worth of Israel bonds have been sold in the United States since last January, the congressman, son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, added.

He cited Israel bonds as a worthwhile investment for unions and welfare funds because they are liquid and sound assets, in addition to being an investment for peace in a bastion of democracy in that part of the world.

U.C. Employees 371 wins 2½ per cent hike

Norman E. Amundson, assistant secretary of the Central Labor Council assisted in just-concluded negotiations between the University of California and U.C. Employees 371.

The union, which represents custodial help employed by the university, won a 2½ per cent wage increase effective Jan. 1. This is in addition to 2½ per cent received last July, Amundson said.

Life membership in union presented to Mrs. Mackin

Mrs. Elizabeth Mackin, who retired last Friday as secretary-treasurer of Retail Clerks 870, was presented with a paid-up life membership in the union at a party held in her honor.

Mrs. Mackin has been a member and employee of Local 870 for 21 years.

She has been secretary-treasurer since 1962. Before that she was office manager and Executive Board member of the union, then Food Clerks 870.

In addition, Mrs. Mackin served as a delegate to both the Alameda County AFLCIO Central Labor Council and the Alameda County AFLCIO Council on Political Education for many years.

She is also a member of the Labor Council's Community Services Committee.

Congressman George P. Miller (D.-Alameda) appointed Mrs. Mackin as a member of the State Democratic Central Committee.

Following her retirement, Mrs. Mackin left to visit her son, Edward, in Massachusetts, and to attend the inauguration of President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Sayin' something in Mississippi

Eric Seitz, son of Jules Seitz, administrator of the Mill-Cabinet Trust and Mill-Cabinet Pension Plan, was one of a group of Oberlin College students who manned picks and shovels to bring the Christmas spirit to Negroes in Ripley, Miss.

The group drove from Ohio to rebuild the Antioch Baptist Church, which burned Oct. 30 following a rally of the Freedom Democratic Party.

Mrs. Paul Schmidt, wife of the acting head of the college's philosophy department, summed it up:

"We were talking about the many churches that had been burned in Mississippi. We said anyone who destroyed a church was saying something, and we felt we should be saying something by building it up."

Nut Tree 'unfair'

Stambaugh thanks Labor Council for its strong support

F. V. (Vern) Stambaugh, retiring president of Carmen's 192, thanked the Central Labor Council for its strong support of the union during strikes and on legislation over the 14 years he has held the office.

Expressing his wish for continued success to the council, Stambaugh said it would probably be his last meeting as a delegate.

CLC President Russell Crowell, in turn, thanked Stambaugh for his support of the council's policies and activities. Crowell said there had been "no stronger supporter" of the Labor Council than Stambaugh.

When Crowell expressed hope that Stambaugh would enjoy his retirement, the outgoing Carmen's leader replied that he was only retiring from union office. Stambaugh said he would continue working — as a bus driver.

'$1 million in jobless pay during holidays'

Unemployment insurance benefit payments meant a brighter Christmas for some 6,000 jobless persons and their families in the area served by the Oakland Unemployment Insurance Office.

Manager Mich Kunitani said more than a million dollars in unemployment benefits flowed into local trade channels during the holiday season.

"These dollars were reflected not only in sales totals but in increased employment of local workers," Kunitani said. He set the comparable statewide figure at about $45 million.

Painters Local No. 127

By SAM CAPONIO

The officers and members of Painters Local 127 wish to extend greetings to all for a truly joyous Christmas.

We give thanks for everything in the past year and look forward with anticipation into the new year. Many things will come up in this new year which will affect you and your family.

All members who have chosen the Kaiser Plan can have a full physical examination for free. In January, February and March, all members of the Welfare Plan, (Painters only) can get a full physical examination from the doctor of their choice. The trustees have allowed up to $25 toward this examination, and they hope all will take advantage of this opportunity. This does not include dependents.

The trustees also tried to get an allowance of $50 toward eye care for members, but some of the trustees have laid this matter over to the next meeting.

The excess vacation money that was mentioned last week will be used as soon as the Vacation Trust is amended. There is nothing in the trust that allows the trustees to do anything with the excess money. That will be taken care of soon.

Many people have stated that the present trustees are going to break the Welfare Plan. In the third quarter in 1964 (July-September), the Welfare Plan spent $30,000. With a reserve of $1,700,000, the amount spent is just a drop in the bucket.

Next quarter will reflect the Dental Plan, which began in October. You will know the amount spent on that item also. The last part of January, the next audit of the plan will show the figures.

Many members in the East Bay are upset over the decision of the General Executive Board on local union election of business representatives. If you have not heard by now, the board turned down the request.

Last year, the board gave the San Francisco area permission to elect their own agents, but have turned down the same request for our area. No reason was given other than that the board thought the move would not be wise at this time. Usually the board cites the Brotherhood Constitution, but it did not in this case.

Other Painters' Unions plan to take any action necessary to get a reversal of that decision. We plan to join them. Merry Christmas.

Watchmakers Local 101

By GEORGE F. ALLEN

Immediately following the New Year holiday, those members that will be attending the first Accutron Watch Class will receive their notice by mail.

The first class will start on Tuesday, Jan. 12, and then, within five weeks, the second group of members will be notified as to the date and time of their class attendance.

If any of you have obtained the Accutron Repair Kit from Bulova that we mentioned previously, we suggest that you bring your kit with you to school. We are sure it will be most helpful to you during your instruction.

Each Watchmaker that completes the course will receive a certificate from the Bulova Co., certifying that he is an Accutron repair specialist.

Millmen 550

By CLYDE JOHNSON

The holiday season is not so pleasant for many of our members this year. About 125 members are out of work. This is the worst unemployment we've suffered in a long time.

If the cabinet and laboratory fixtures for Emeryville High School, the new Berkeley schools, Alameda schools and a few other schools in the county had not been peddled to out-of-state firms, our members would be working today.

It is hard to explain to an unemployed, taxpaying Millman why the University of California is buying laboratory fixtures for the new Chemistry Building from out-of-state.

We have talked to school boards, to superintendents, to architects, to builders, to politicians... with few results. Legislation is a must! We intend to hit some of the jobs with consumer pickets. When any of these districts asks us to support school bonds again, our support will be measured by the amount of cabinet work we got on the previous jobs.

Our first push on the Legislature will be an appeal to keep the "Buy America" Act as a law. Our appeal (Locals 42, 262 and 550 together) will go to all locals of the Brotherhood, to many other unions in the state and to all legislators.

You will receive notice soon of contract demand meetings. The Six County Negotiating Committee will meet Dec. 28 to establish a more formal setup and to prepare for negotiations.

Holiday greetings from the officers and Executive Board.

Why not pass this copy of the East Bay Labor Journal to a friend of yours when you are finished reading it!

Carpet Linoleum No. 1290

By RICHARD SCHOLZ

The Christmas season brings out many once-a-year traditions, with the exchanging of gifts, the family gatherings and feasting, and the holiday cards.

That which symbolizes the feeling of the season the most is the increasing display of lights. Even on the first night, there was a light shining from a star pointing for the three wise men the way.

So it is now we may be wise men and follow the lights of our time that brighten the darkness and guide for us the way. His way is the way of love and brotherhood of man.

Our holiday eatin' meeting was a fine success with the Christmas Party Committee doing a fine job.

Winners of Safeway merchandise orders were Brothers Fred Claypole, Ken Coble and Richard Griffin. Brother Wayne Collins had just paid his dues in advance, and then won a month's free dues. Winners of the boxing tickets turned out to be Brothers Stan Richards, Ross Miller and James Sillers. With the boxing show over, they received five dollars each instead.

Two fine watches as special gifts from Brother Glen McIntire were won by journeyman Brother Bob Flood and apprentice Dean Shelton.

Being no further business, the meeting adjourned to the back of the hall where the food was waiting.

I hope that many of you will join those who attend the regular monthly union meetings through the coming year. We should have an even larger monthly attendance. This will give us a more fruitful participation by you, the members, in the union's affairs.

See you Jan. 28, 1965.

Retail Clerks Union 870

By CHARLES F. JONES

Nominations for first vice-president, second vice-president, secretary-treasurer, five vacancies on the Executive Board, two delegates to the Alameda County Central Labor Council and one trustee will be held at the first regular membership meeting on Tuesday, Jan. 12, 1965, at 8 p.m. in the office of the union.

The election for the above offices will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 26, 1965, at the office of the union. The polls will be open from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m.

Article VI (G) of the by-laws of Local 870 provides: No person shall be eligible to hold elective office unless he or she has: (1). Completed 12 consecutive months' active membership in the Union next immediately preceding nomination, and (2). Has not had, during such 12 month period, charges preferred and sustained or has not been subject to disciplinary action by the Executive Board and (3). at the time of nomination is in good standing.

IN MEMORIAM

We regret to announce the death of Brother Wesley C. Brady, who passed away on Dec. 12, 1964. Brother Brady was employed at Bond's, Oakland. We extend the sympathy of the union to his family.

Carpenters Credit Union

By PAUL HUDGINS, Treasurer

We handed out quick cash to many members for their Christmas shopping. They had been saving a few dollars out of each paycheck all through the year. Christmas is more fun when you have the money saved for it.

It is easy to borrow in emergency, too, at your credit union.

if you have been saving any small amount pretty regularly. Regular additions to your savings account make you look good to the Credit Committee.

Set up a "payroll deduction" for yourself. If the employer won't take it out before writing the check, you just have to take it out when you cash the check. If you are cashing the check at the liquor store, order your bottle of booze "and a money order for the credit union."

You know pretty well you are going to lose some days during the rainy season. The only way you can enjoy those days off is to save up a little when you are getting in full time.

"Relax and enjoy it." You will live longer and get more fun out of living if you are prepared to enjoy each period of unemployment. This means saving a part of every full paycheck.

Only the part you save really belongs to you. Make up your mind to save a little first, before paying the bills. If you can't save any, you may as well give up and quit working right now, because someday you'll have to quit, and you'll be just as broke as you are now.

Your credit union is here to help. Come and see us with any financial problem. We are at 4032 Foothill, 9:30 to 5:30 every day except Sundays and holidays.

Steel Machinists 1304

By DAVE ARCA

Hi. Thanks to the U.S. Supreme Court, our 1304 members locked out by Pabco may have a happier Christmas, and, we hope, a more prosperous New Year.

We've waited five and a half years for justice. That's a long time.

The waiting is not over. The Supreme Court ruled 8 to 0 that Pabco must resume its maintenance operations. Pabco has not yet indicated it will comply.

Justice doesn't come easy to locked out workers. Only the combined efforts of our United Steelworkers of America and the Central Labor Council of Alameda County with its affiliated unions, and the fair reporting of the East Bay Labor Journal, plus extensive legal counselling by the law firm of Darwin, Rosenthal and Leff, guided our perilous course through lockout, strike, injunctions and lawsuits.

No, indeed, justice for workers doesn't come easy.

The Supreme Court's 8 to 0 ruling should have cleared the way for a resumption of negotiations. Further delay would appear contempt on the part of the company. Perhaps we're unduly suspicious.

We admit to bitterness over the calculated act. Other companies have accomplished economic cutbacks without resorting to conspiracy and deceit. Rehashing the brutal callousness may expose a masochistic weakness, but our wounds were deep, and scars remain. It will be difficult to forget.

We turn now toward re-establishing our members to their Pabco jobs. We have to determine which are available, and what jobs are left. To this end, our Pabco Negotiating Committee will meet Wednesday, Dec 23, at 7 p.m.

When further development occur, all Pabco members will be called in. In the meantime, the officers and Executive Board of our union extend to you our hopes for a very merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year. Okay? Okay.

Demand the Union Label!

A very worthwhile way to spend public money

Defense expenditures are being cut. We have slowed down the arms race a little, but we still have massive nuclear superiority.

How about the money saved?

Should we give it all back in tax cuts? Or should we keep some in the "public sector of the economy," as the experts call it?

There are two persuasive arguments for the second course:

- Defense cuts have increased unemployment in some areas, including California. Economists predict no significant improvement in unemployment during 1965. California's jobless rate has been running higher than the national average most of the time since the beginning of 1961. Spending federal money on peacetime needs will create new jobs.

- Now we have a chance to catch up on some of the nation's unmet needs—better housing, better schools, health, transportation and the elimination of poverty.

President Johnson's Commission on Heart Disease, Cancer and Stroke recently recommended a network of 540 treatment and research centers for these three diseases.

This is an example of meeting an important national need. Health is a public concern.

If present methods of treatment are not available to all Americans alike, it means that some persons are dying merely because they haven't enough money, or because they live in the wrong part of the United States.

This is un-American to us.

By the same token, if research could find ways to prevent or cure these three diseases, which cause 70 per cent of the nation's deaths, it is criminal not to spend enough money to do it.

We'll all die someday, anyway. But what better way could there be to spend a relatively small part of our national budget than to let millions enjoy life a little longer?

The presidential commission has put a $2.9 billion price tag on its program over the next five years. We've been spending $40-$50 billion a year on defense-related programs for years. Which is more important?

'Boulwarism' ruled illegal

The National Labor Relations Board ruled last week that "Boulwarism" is against the law.

"Boulwarism" got its name from Lemuel R. Boulware, for many years vice-president in charge of labor relations for General Electric Co.

In the case before the NLRB, General Electric presented a take-it-or-leave-it proposal to employees, then tried to undermine and discredit the union which legally represented its employees, the AFLCIO International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers.

The NLRB, in a key 4-1 decision, ruled that this was not "true collective bargaining" under terms of the law and was, therefore, an unfair labor practice by G.E.

As a matter of fact, Boulwarism, as practiced by G.E. and a number of other large firms, is a travesty on collective bargaining.

A take-it-or-leave-it offer is the exact opposite of bargaining. And going directly to individuals undermines the collective approach, which is the strength of unionism.

Among other things, the NLRB found that G.E.:

- Interfered with and coerced employees in their union rights.
- Broke the law by refusing to reinstate 18 strikers in Augusta, Ga.
- Tried to get some IUE locals to abandon the strike or deal separately with the company, and
- Presented IUE a personal accident insurance proposal on a this-or-nothing basis.

The NLRB found that General Electric mounted a campaign to "disparage and discredit" the union and tried to get employees to persuade the union to submit to the G.E. proposals.

"Boulwarism" is probably the reason the IUE's three-week strike against G.E. failed in 1960.

American labor relations have been largely peaceful, and the American labor movement has remained a supporter of the free enterprise system.

This is because both sides have developed a system of free, collective bargaining. Under it, both workers and management are the richest in the world.

General Electric, the nation's largest electrical manufacturer, apparently doesn't believe in this system and wants to grab more for itself. The NLRB, protector of the rights of both sides under the law, has rightly slapped G.E. down.

CARPENTERS H&W STATISTICS GIVEN

Editor, Labor Journal:

In your press release of Nov. 18, 1964, under the caption "Opinions" certain statements were made by a Mr. Rikard primarily relative to the Health and Welfare Plan and what he alleged to be a lack of Carpenters covered.

Not only do I recognize the situation a man finds himself in when he reaches the age of fifty years or over, but I have worked very diligently in this area on both the state and national basis to try to alleviate their problems in this highly competitive age.

I believe it is timely that your readers become acquainted with our health and welfare in the limited space afforded me to cover such a broad subject.

First, I might mention that the Health and Welfare Plan is financed by a negotiated contribution by the employer on the employee's behalf. It is not a deduction from wages.

The Carpenter's Health and Welfare Plan has been in existence since 1953.

(Statistical information furnished by Martin E. Segal Co., consultants.)

The carpentry trade, like many other building trades, is comprised to quite a large degree of so-called transient people, also those who may be working on application through the union but later fail to qualify at time of examination. Summer apprentices are also to be taken into consideration.

Because of the above mentioned conditions, a man's social security number would appear on our records whether he worked four hours or sixteen hours, etc. The above must be taken in serious consideration when we evaluate the amount of Carpenters and dependents actually covered by our plan.

However, even with the unemployment that has existed in our trade for the past year and a half, we are still able to estimate an approximate 90 per cent plus coverage for our Carpenters.

When one considers that only 400 hours are required in a six month period, and this in turn may be parlayed by referring the first three months of the six month period into the operating fund, the second three month period is added to the third three month period, then one can figure 400 hours worked in the nine month period would bring about coverage for a six month period.

The trust further provides that if a covered Carpenter is unable to work because of sickness or injury, and upon the filing of a disability certification, the fund will credit his account up to 26 weeks thereby extending his coverage.

Our operating costs are kept to a minimum by carefully selected personnel and the use of the latest automated equipment. The benefit structure has been constantly improved as income permits. Any questions pertaining to your coverage or the interpretation of the trust is readily available at your union office.

RUMFORD THANKS LABOR FOR SUPPORT

Editor, Labor Journal:

This is to express my sincere appreciation for your endorsement of my candidacy for reelection as assemblyman from the 17th District.

For many years, I have had the support of labor, and we have worked together in Sacramento harmoniously.

Certainly, this endorsement meant a lot to me coming from the district which I represent.

I am looking forward to our continued harmonious relationship for the best interests of all the people of this state.

Again, thank you for your confidence.

W. BYRON RUMFORD

EDUCATION

Of every three high school graduates, one enters college. But even so, some 120,000 to 200,000 students of outstanding ability, proven or potential, do not go beyond high school level each year for reasons of finances or improper environment or family motivation.—President Johnson.
